While the Lottery is a public agency, it receives no public funding. Instead, all operating and administrative expenses are raised through the responsible sales of our games. Disruptions that impact revenue generation would significantly affect the Lottery's ability to achieve its mission. In addition, incorrect data supplied to executives, upon which members rely for decision-making criteria, and/or unsupported recommended approaches or solutions could result in wasted resources and inefficient use of Lottery resources. Negative decisions on mission critical Lottery systems could result in outages where such failures would be a significant embarrassment to the Lottery, the Governor, and the state.
- b. Administrative Responsibility: Provides strategic as well as day-to-day management responsibilities. Responsible for all aspects of workforce development, succession planning, and performance management including, but not limited to: recruiting, hiring, retaining, workforce development, succession planning, training/cross-training, knowledge transfer, mentoring, coaching, progressive discipline, corrective action, onboarding/offboarding, employee engagement, and ensuring and maintaining a positive and diverse workforce composition in ITSD.
- c. Supervision Exercised and Received: The IT Strategy, Policy, and Business Services Manager is under general direction of and receives most assignments from the Information Technology Manager II; direction and assignments may also come from the extended Information Technology Services Division (ITSD) management team.

The incumbent is responsible for planning, organizing, and directing the vision of the program and work of subordinate staff. The incumbent must also have knowledge of effective principles of supervision, leadership, and progressive discipline process and procedures.
